ADVISORY

The Bureau of the Treasury (BTr) wishes to clarify that recent hacking of its official Facebook page is isolated to the social media account.

While the incident is being resolved, we strongly advise the public to disregard any malicious posts, messages, or announcements from the compromised page until further notice.

For official announcements and updates, please refer to our official website www.treasury.gov.ph and other verified government communication channels.

The public's understanding and vigilance is highly appreciated.
